President's Message February 2024

Volume LXXXVII. Issue 5

PLEASE NOTE DATE OF FEBRUARY MEETING: February 22 !!!

The value of something is sometimes only what someone is willing to pay for that item. Stamps are one of those items that can have a face value, a collectors value, or a sentimental value. I have many stamps with a low face value, collectors value, but a high sentimental value. It may be because of the beauty of the stamp, or the uniqueness, that I value a stamp more. It may be because of the category like "Love" stamps, Olympics, or animals. There are dates and locations in the US that have special meaning to me and there always seems to be a stamp that will represent those dates and locations. I have an "American the Beautiful" commemorative cover collection, that has very little collectors value, but has given me many hours of enjoyment, relaxation, and reading material on hundreds of beautiful locations throughout the United States. I am sure there are other stamp club collectors that enjoy their collections for more than just face value. Let the good times roll with the abundance of stamps.

Forever Stamps, Larry Jones, President QC Stamp Club
